Visiting by Train

The easiest way to reach us by train is to travel to Liverpool city centre first, then take Merseyrail's Wirral Line under the River Mersey to Birkenhead.

Getting to Liverpool city centre

Liverpool Lime Street is the city's main-line station, with direct services from across the country, including:

- London Euston: direct Avanti West Coast trains, with the fastest taking around 2 hours 15 minutes.
- Manchester: Northern trains from Manchester Oxford Road take about 1 hour 10 minutes, and direct trains from Manchester Airport take a similar time.
- Birmingham New Street: West Midlands Trains services take about 1 hour 40 minutes.
- Leeds: around 1 hour 45 minutes.

Journey times are approximate and vary by service, so please check National Rail Enquiries or your train operator before you travel.

Wirral Line to Birkenhead

At Liverpool Lime Street, follow the signs for Merseyrail to pick up the Wirral Line. The Wirral Line also calls at Moorfields, James Street and Liverpool Central. Trains run under the River Mersey to Hamilton Square in around 4 to 6 minutes, roughly every 5 to 10 minutes. Any Wirral Line train stops at Hamilton Square. For Conway Park, take a train towards West Kirby or New Brighton, as Conway Park is the next stop after Hamilton Square. Both stations are about a 14-minute walk (0.6 miles) from Hythe.

From Conway Park

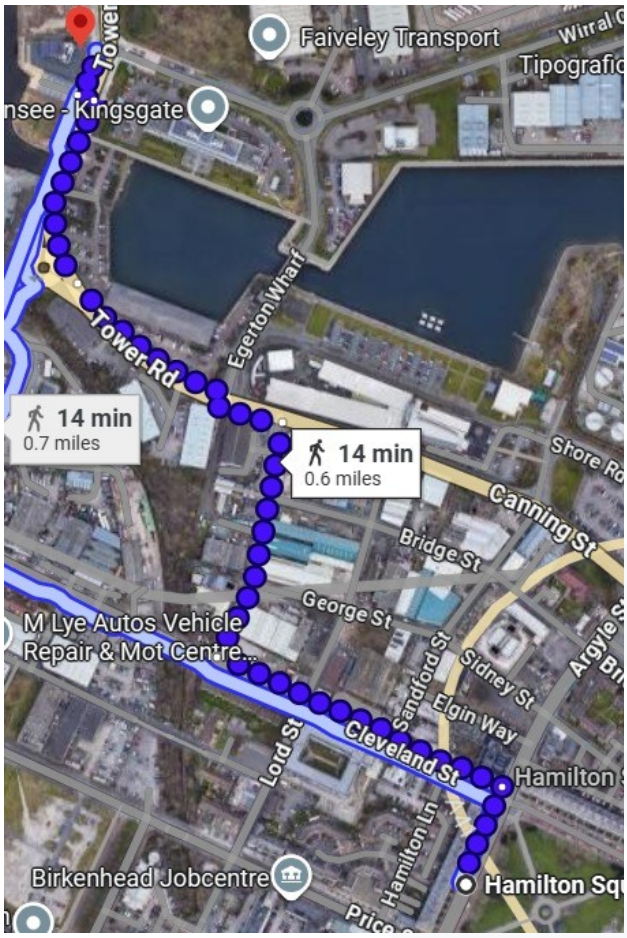

Leave the station and follow Park Street north, crossing Cleveland Street. Continue north to Tower Road, then follow Tower Road to Hythe, close to Wirral Met College's Wirral Waters campus.

From Hamilton Square

Leave the station and head north to Cleveland Street. Follow Cleveland Street west, then turn north towards Tower Road and follow Tower Road to Hythe.
